These "specials" are no more worthy than any other of the thousand and one garments in our immense Cloak stock. We're simply selected these four numbers at random so that you can give "me" special attention and make proper comparisons. Number one is Ladies Jacket of tan Venetian Cloth with either double breasted or box front, half silk lined, would be low priced at $7.50, our price $5.75.

Number two is a Misses' Jacket of Tan Velvet Cloth, box front, velvet collar, made to sell for $8.50, specially priced here at $6.75.

A magnificent copy of the great novel Quo Vadis, in cloth binding, with rose paper, large type and copiously illustrated; the publisher's price is $1; to get your attention we're selling 'em at 49c.

Mr. George W. Oldham is meeting with loaded success in securing "ads" for THE LEDGER's Twice-page Thanksgiving Number. If you want to encourage home enterprise and to see evidence of his superior workmanship, you, kindly give him an order for a card in this edition.

George W. Young, well-known in this city, died yesterday at 4 a. m. at his home near Pinesburg. He leaves a widow and seven children, three sons and four daughters. Mr. Young was a turkey buyer for Brightman Bros., and at one time came to this city with a drove of over one thousand.

In commemoration of Thanksgiving, THE LEDGER will issue an especially attractive twelve-page edition, with a very due and artistic full page illustration, colored in all the tints of the rainbow, and in addition, one full page pictorial border, and two full page illustrations which will be a delight to the old and young. By reason of the increased circulation that will be given, advertisers will find it of exceptional value in reaching the public and of lasting benefit, because the beauty of the color will cause it to be preserved. In order that advertising patrons may have the benefit of Thanksgiving purchasers, the paper will be issued on Wednesday, November 24th, the day previous to Thanksgiving. We will be thankful for your favors.

STAMP TAX—RECEIPTS.

Receipts may be given by a Depositor himself for his own funds in Bank—but If the Receipt is used by another party it becomes an order for the payment of money and is subject to stamp tax.

TREASURY DEPARTMENT.

COMMISSIONER OF INTERNAL REVENUE, U. S. DEPT. OF TREASURY, WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 31, 1898.

SIR: I have to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of the 29th instant, in which you request the ruling of this office as to whether a receipt is in the nature of a deposit or a loan.

Receipts of the Bank of Lancaster of Lancaster, Pa., dated as above.

Filed out in the handwriting of an official of the Bank and signed by the depositor on calling for and receiving the money, is liable to stamp duty. In reply, you are advised that, in accordance with the advice of the Attorney General, this office holds that a receipt given to a bank by a person to whom the bank is indebted as a depositor or otherwise, or for whom it holds funds, is no more subject to a stamp than a receipt given for any article or demand.

The purpose of the law is to require stamps upon checks, which are commercial negotiable instruments, and checks, however, are not required to be stamped.

A form sufficient to constitute an order for the payment of money may be stamped, but a receipt of a commercial negotiable instrument, then it is subject to the tax.

There is much banking done, especially in Savings Banks, without the use of checks at all, the depositor having a book in which the bank deposits the amount deposited on one side and the amount drawn out on the other. Of course, the depositor in such cases draws the money out of the bank as he knows it or such a way as not to be subject to stamp duty, because he does not give a check. So, if a person does not give a check, but issues a receipt, but if he issues his receipt so that it will be good in the hands of another person to draw upon his deposit for the amount of it, then it loses the character of a receipt and becomes a check or draft, and is subject to tax.

Respectfully yours,
G. W. WILSON, Acting Commissioner.

WILL THE PEOPLE SUBMIT?

Following are the net results of the infamous Grobel Election Commission: Democrats absolutely control the election system in every county in Kentucky. In 96 counties there are two Democratic and one Republican Election Commissioners; in 11 other counties there are two Democratic and one Republican Commissioner; and in the 11 remaining counties we have solely Democratic Boards.

Republicans are in a helpless minority of one against two in 96 counties, and in 4 counties they are absolutely without representation on the boards that are masters of the election machinery, pass upon all election contests and from whose most important decisions there is no appeal.

The Republican organizations were not permitted to vote for the few Republicans appointed, and it is a notorious fact that the so-called Populists are nearly all Democrats in disguise, having voted and acted with the Democratic party on every important occasion in recent years.

The mask of hypocrisy that was put on when Judge Payton was elected a member of the State Election Commission has been thrown off, and the true conspiracy is revealed in all its hideousness.

Has the Republican party been such an enemy to the state and Nation as to justify these outrageous against it and democracy to drive or keep it from power?

Is the suppression of WILLIAM GROBEL and his high-handed followers so important to the welfare of Kentucky as to condone this unspeakable rape of the ballot?

Will the people submit?

In other counties where the issue as to be voted on, politics has given way to the Free-Turnpike and Bond Issue question. The people, and very properly, are alive to the importance of this matter, and want it settled now and forever. To do this, there is only one plain and straight way, and that is to vote for Free Turnpikes and then vote for the issue of $90,000 to 4 per cent. bonds to pay for those turnpikes. Your Fiscal Court has unanimously asked you to buy. This will secure free travel for all the people on all the roads all the time. Any other course will result in a restoration of tollgates, a reversal of gains and an immense outlay each year to pay for tollgates, without the slightest benefit to the taxpayers.

PEOPLE who denounce merchants or manufacturers because they do not pay big wages to their employees ought to stop and think just how far they are themselves to blame. Are you quite sure you aren't one of those who go around seeking "competitive bids" every time you have $10 worth of work to be done? Are you quite sure you don't hunt for stores that sell goods at a cent less than anywhere? And so long as you get the advantage of this one-cents-of-a-cent, do you really care, anyway, whether the higher priced store pays its clerk $10 a week, or whether the lower priced store pays its clerk $2 a week? If employees are paid poor wages, in nine cases out of ten the fault is with those who are everlastingly demanding cheap products. "A cheap companion for you," "that is, a poorly paid workman made me."

THE War Department has been fighting the cost of the war with Spain and finds that since beginning hostilities April 21st to the present day the sum of $187,329,941, or a fraction more than $1,000,000 a day has been expended. Frequently a day's expense ran over $1,000,000 and on July 28th $4,110,000 were put into circulation. That was the most expensive day of the war, and yet it was after the Spanish had been virtually whipped out of their boots. Durey had defeated Cervera at Manila, the naval battle of Cuba's coast, near the harbor of Santiago, had been won by the American squadron, and Santiago de Cuba had surrendered after General Shafter's army had captured San Juan, Siboney, El Caney and other outposts. It shows that the War and Navy Departments were taking nothing for granted, and were preparing to continue hostilities with vigor if necessary. This is again apparent by the expenditure of $8,775,000 on September 18th, after the peace protocol had been signed. Even now the average of $1,000,000 a day is maintained. July was the costliest month of the war, about $48,000,000 being spent.

LARGE though the war expenses have been, they are not so large as were those of the Civil War, when the enormous sum of $9,065,413,436 was expended before the conflict between the states was ended. The Civil War averaged $1,068,156 a day. The per capita cost of the war thus far has been about $9.20. Last year the cost of maintaining the War and Navy Departments was $38,811,715, or a per capita tax of about $1.19.

The Gold Hoaxers, which the Free-trade Cleveland Administration couldn't keep up to the $100,000,000 mark without the sale of $938,000,000 in interest-bearing bonds, is now nearly $200,000,000. That's the difference between Free-trade and Protection. Fact is the Treasury officials can't get rid of the gold; when people find out they can get it, they don't want it—but it's a mighty comfortable feeling on the part of every patriotic American to know that his Uncle Samuel has a surplus of the best money in the world to make good all his promises.

GENTLEMEN who are violently opposing the annexation of any additional territory to the United States do not occupy a new or novel position. They are only imitators of abler men who have been mortified at finding how greatly they were mistaken in their opposition to American expansionism. When the debate on the Oregon question was in progress in the United States Senate GEORGE McDUFFIE of South Carolina said:

"As I understand it there are 700 miles this side of the Rocky Mountains that are uninhabitable, where rain never falls, where there are mountains wholly impassable except through gorges. How are you going to supply them? Have you made an estimate of the cost of a railway to the Columbia? The wealth of the Indies would be insufficient. What use would it be for agriculture? I would not give a pinch of snuff for the whole territory. I wish the Rocky Mountains were an impassable barrier. If there was an embankment of 5 feet to be removed I would not consent to expend $1 to remove it and enable our population to go there. I thank God for his mercy in placing the Rocky Mountains at that place."

And McDuffie was backed up in his position by Senators much abler than was he, and these Senators lived to suffer mortification over their false position as they saw the glories of the Golden Gate, the magnificent prospects of Columbia river, its tributaries and of Puget Sound unfolding. The Philippines are not half so inaccessible today as was Oregon in the days of McDuffie's opposition.

NEWSY NOTES FROM NATURE'S GREAT HIGHWAY.

The W. F. Nibel passed down for Cincinnati last night.

The W. J. Cummings was the Pittsburgh packet last night.

The Henry M. Stanley was the Pomeroy packet last night.

The Donnan will pass down tonight from Pomeroy for Cincinnati.

The Virginia passed from Pittsburgh for Cincinnati last night, and will pass up tonight.

The wheel of the little steamer Greenwood will be out down eight inches in order to allow her to make faster time.

Mardi Gras this season will fall on February 14th. The date will serve as a double celebration of Mardi Gras and St. Valentine's.

The Pittsburgh towboat Samuel Clarke passed up from Louisville yesterday with one of the largest, if not the largest, ever taken up by a single steamer. When she left Cincinnati she had in tow 30 coal barges and 4 floats, making a total of 34 pieces, and she was showing them up the river at a good gallop. She had the tow barge in seven lengths, and it was over 60 feet long. The Clark is a fine boat, and she has one of the best crews it is possible to get.

The current issue of The Marine Review of Cleveland contains a half-page photographic reproduction of the St. Louis and Tennessee River Packet Company's recently completed steamer City of Memphis, which was built at New Orleans, La. The ship is a fine specimen of a modern river steamer, and she is not to be considered a mere toy for the St. James, which was recently built at the Cincinnati Marine Works. The size of the City of Memphis is 20 feet in length, 32 feet wide and 4 feet deep. Her engines are 10 inches by 12 feet.
